OUR SERVICE

What we do for you

In addition to excellent product quality, the name Knopf & Knopf has stood for all-round service since 1993. It is important to us to react quickly and flexibly according to our customers' wishes at all times. This is why we developed the removable reference sample for them (see illustration below). Moreover, we continually work on simplifying the dispatch processes, such as by assuming clearance tasks and offering high storage capacities.

To keep on re-inventing ourselves, we always keep an eye out for the latest fashions, and depict them in our Trendletter. That is our way of keeping you informed and inspired.

Our customers show their appreciation by maintaining trusting business relationships with us, established in no small part by the many years' employment at the company of our members of staff. We are proud of having a team that works well together, that takes pleasure in creative challenges.

BUTTONS

Timeless Beauty

People have been using buttons to close and brighten up their garments for centuries. Even though taste and design have continually changed over time, buttons are always in fashion.

We present four new button collections per year, incorporating the latest trends, enabling designers to turn their view of fashion into reality. We also offer a wide range of accessories as further decorative elements. We also gladly implement the individual wishes of our customers, and turn their ideas into products.

We always make sure that our buttons and accessories fulfil modern demands. That is why our customers have at their disposal an array of materials processed in accordance with international standards.

HANGTAGS

Show who you are

In addition to the visual appeal it bestows, the hangtag provides potential customers with information about the brand and quality. We ensure that the message behind your creation is easily visible in the shop, too. Our hangtags cleverly draw attention to the design – they promote the presentation and constitute a permanent component of the appearance of your brand. Just like with our buttons, you can choose from various different materials: plastic, wood, paper and metal.

We know how important each detail of the overall creation is when it comes to making a purchasing decision and to the brand image. That is why we also offer our customers labels in different shapes and basic materials, for instance as high-quality woven labels. However, there are two things which our products always have in common: consistent quality and meticulous finishing.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

For a better tomorrow

As a business undertaking, Knopf & Knopf influences both the environment and the society. Knopf & Knopf is well aware that this means assuming responsibility. It is important to us to conserve natural resources and to correctly pay for work performed.

Our products are dyed in accordance with ecological guidelines. A large part of our products are certified according to Öko Tex Standard 100. We make sure that our dealings with our employees all over the world as well as with our partners and suppliers are fair and based on trust. Knopf & Knopf International is also directly committed: with our "Buttons against Cancer" campaign, we have been successfully collecting donations for the German Childhood Cancer Foundation for years.

INTERNATIONAL

Crossing borders

To us, "international" is more than just a tag behind our company's name. With representatives in the whole of Europe and Asia, we have the best possible contacts in the most important production centres for buttons and accessories. Our on-site employees are familiar with the prevailing conditions, and are part of a great network.

Our high storage capacities abroad are also to your advantage: at short notice, we can send your order to wherever the next processing stage will be.

You can also visit us at international trade fairs where we are regular exhibitors. We present our collections and exchange experiences with experts and interested parties alike.

SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

Partners in creation

Knopf & Knopf International focuses on care and quality at every stage of its production processes. We design our order processing as flexibly as possible in the interests of our customers. Our international representatives make it easier to ensure fast transportation to the various countries of production.

Our customers appreciate this service. Well-known fashion producers such as Hugo Boss and s.Oliver have been associated with us for years. Internationally known designers such as Guido Maria Kretschmer, Talbot & Runhof and Michael Michalsky use our products to put the finishing touches to their creations. We are proud of these mature business relations, which we cultivate with care.
